

Asì

Asì's third CD co-produced by Jando Music and Via Veneto Jazz

The third CD entitled "Asì" was released in October 2011 (produced by Jando Music and Via Veneto Jazz, distributed by EMI). The Asì project came to life in 2006 when Ermanno Dodaro, a theatre music composer ("Dona Flor e i suoi due mariti" directed by Emanuela Giordano) and double bassist (Rossana Casale, Tosca, Rocco Papaleo), encounters the saxophonist and flutist Francesco Consaga, the pianist Arturo Valiante (Pino Daniele, Giorgia) and drummer Luca Caponi (Ascanio Celestini, John Zorn, Gabriel Cohen, Maria De Medeiros). Asì's music is truly a journey through a myriad of musical influences. In fact, despite the ensemble being that of the classic jazz quartet with piano, the proposals of these musicians are not confined to that space, but widen the sound horizons to other musical terrains. What emerges is an alchemy of sounds masterfully blended, yet each maintaining their voice and identity to creating a unique musical landscape. "Asì" have already recorded two CDs, "Asícomolasflores" (2006), all original compositions and "Luna che mira ad oriente" (2009), love songs from around the world, by Ermanno Dodaro, rearranged and performed by Indonesian singer Lily Latuheru. The "Asì" have played in several Italian clubs and jazz festivals, also performing at the RAI Auditorium in Naples (7/12/2006).

Below are links for some of the group's compositions and arrangements, instrumental or sung.

<http://youtu.be/jgDW6yZasQ0>

<http://youtu.be/w97dQOIFnzi>

<http://youtu.be/kN9fl24WVwQ>

<http://youtu.be/IdzAVFiDB-o>

<http://youtu.be/5ITbcF1AmOk>